Is it time to repeal the Human Rights Act?

27 March 2015, 17.00-19.00
followed by drinks reception

Lecture Theatre, BPP University, Law School, 137 Stamford Street, London, SE1 9NN.

Following the judgment of the European Court of Human Rights re Abu Qatada's application, there has been concern expressed from some quarters about the impact of the Human Rights Act 1998.

In October 2014, the Justice Secretary Chris Grayling opened a new debate stating that the Government would withdraw from the ECHR if the Parliament failed to secure the right to veto judgments from this court. The symposium will explore the future of the ECHR and the HRA in the UK.

Andrew Le Sueur (Professor, University of Essex)
